5

Reading: a morning person

- The alarm goes off at 7:00. I wake up, lean over and turn off the alarm. I get up quickly and go downstairs. I put on the coffee. I go back upstairs and have a shower. I sing a song in the shower. I put on my clothes. When I come downstairs again, I have my first cup of coffee. Mmmmm! Then I have some toast and a second cup of coffee. I wash my cup and tidy up the kitchen.

Reading: a morning person

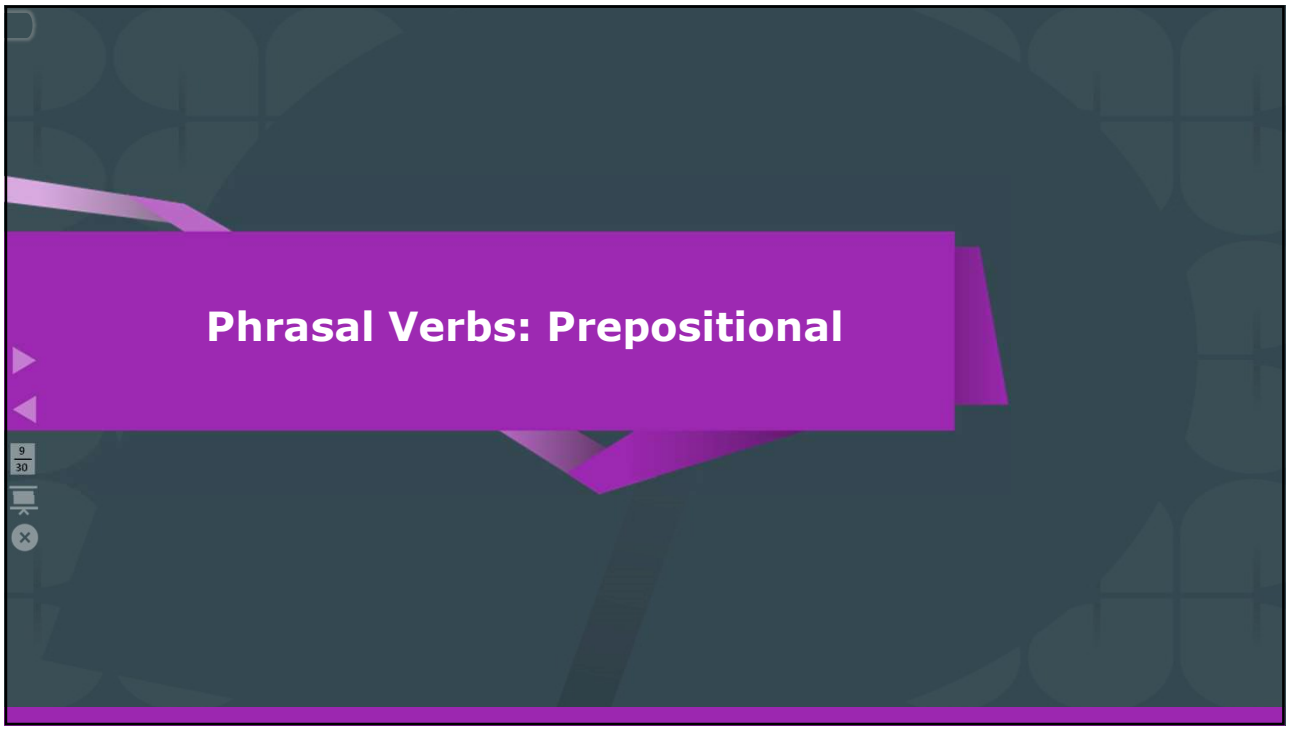

- I take my bag and set off to work. It is 8:00 am. I lock up the house before I go. Sometimes I run to catch the bus. I get on the bus and go for three or four stops. Then I get off the bus. I go into work and say 'GOOD MORNING!' to my first class. It is 8:45am.

7

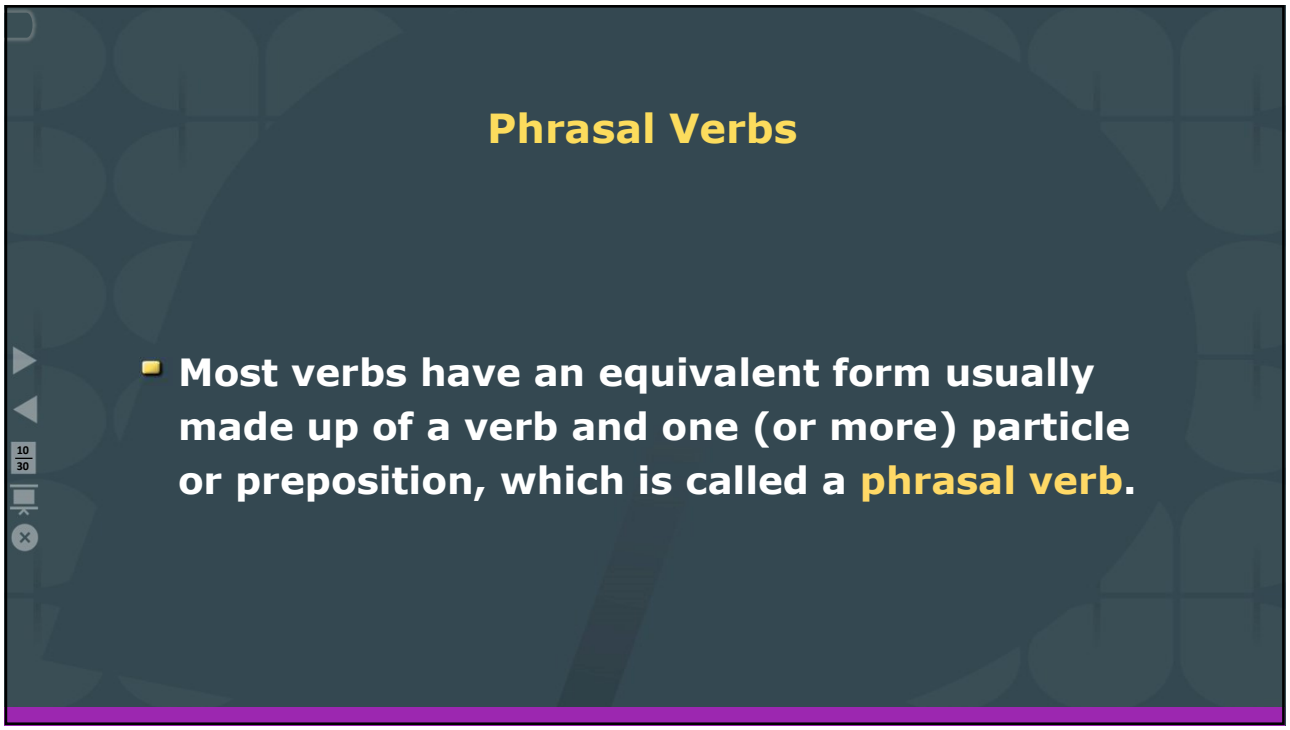

Reading: a morning person

- Are you a morning person?
  - Do you think it is hard to wake up early?
    - Do you have a morning routine?

Phrasal Verbs: Prepositional

9

Phrasal Verbs
Most verbs have an equivalent form usually made up of a verb and one (or more) particle or preposition, which is called a phrasal verb.

10

Phrasal Verbs

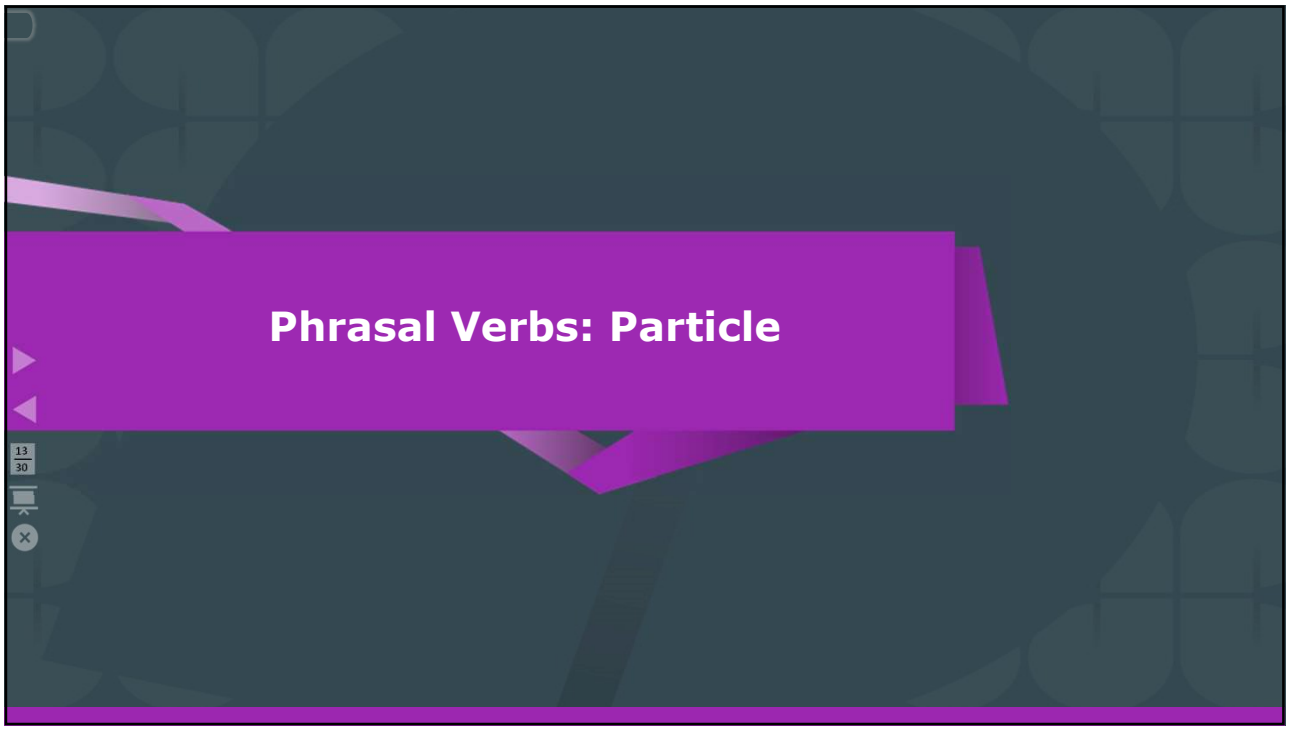

- When the element that accompanies the verb is a preposition, the phrasal verb is classified as prepositional.
  - ✔ The thief broke into the house.
  - ✔ The kids were looking for the ball.
  - ✔ My mother always stands by me.

11

Phrasal Verbs

- These verbs are generally transitive (they need an object), which means that the complement of the sentence is placed after the phrasal verb.
  - ✔ When they got off the plane, it was raining.
  - ✔ You need to do your part to keep down the dengue mosquitos.

12

13

Phrasal Verbs

- When the element is a particle, it ceases to be interpreted as a preposition.
  - Don't give in so easy, you can do it!
  - I really hate getting up in the morning.
  - Let's hang out tonight?

14

Phrasal Verbs

- These phrasal verbs do not need a complement, and this is what differentiates them from prepositional ones.

15

Particle-prepositional phrasal verb

16

Phrasal Verbs

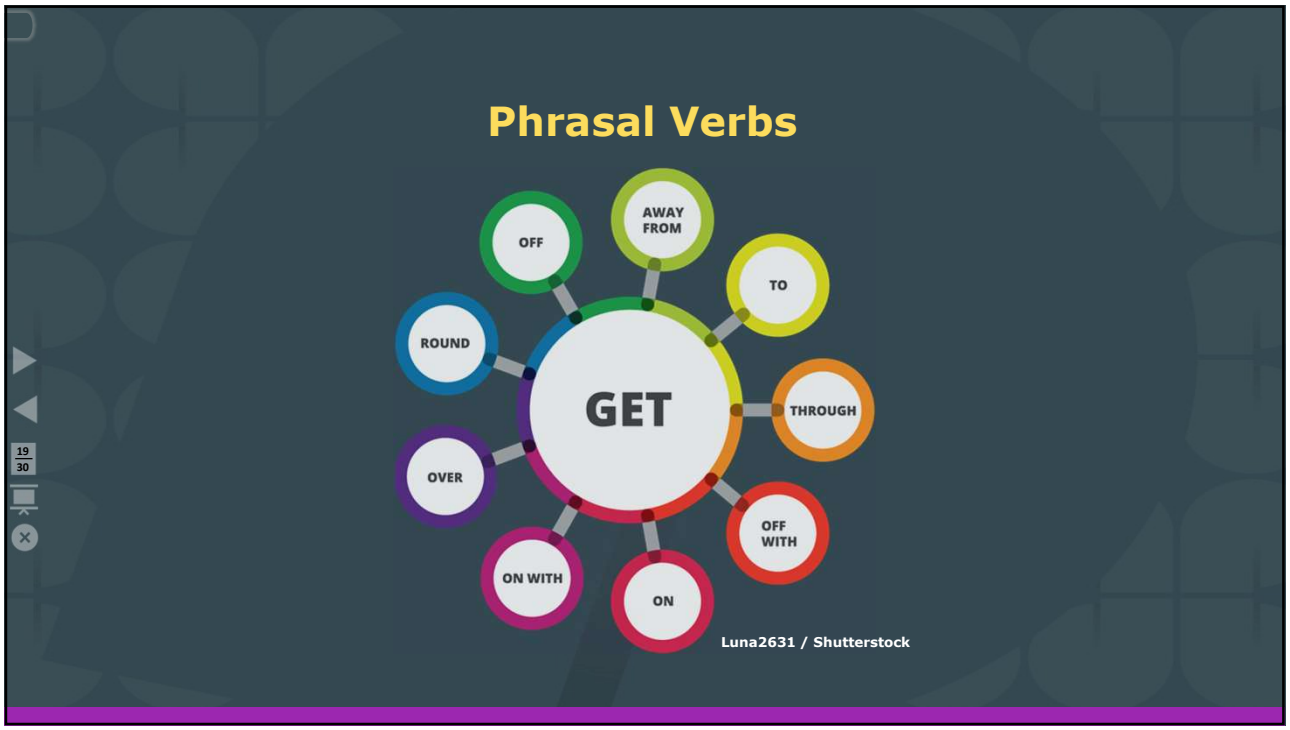

- Many phrasal verbs combine a preposition and a particle. Phrasal verbs composed of the two units cannot be separated.

17

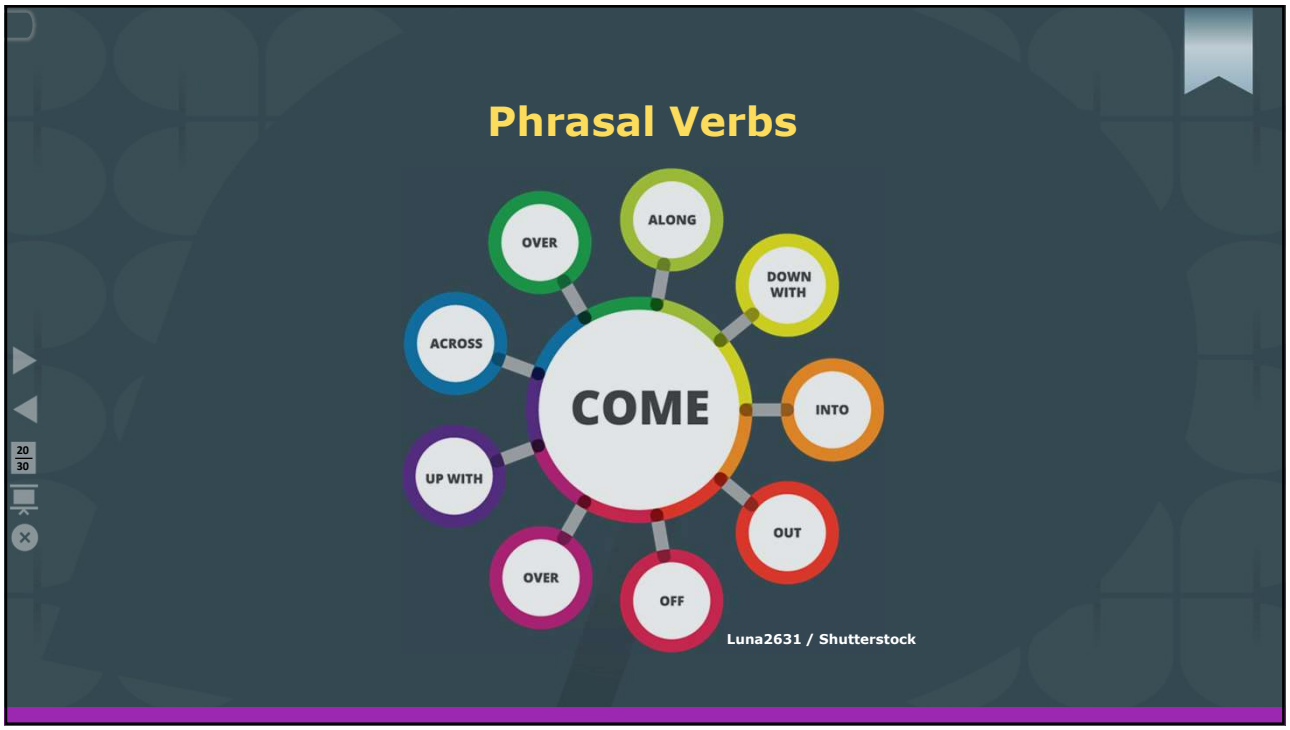

Phrasal Verbs

- Diabetes is serious! You need to cut down on so much sugar.
- They shouldn't look down on the new classmate.
- We got over with the activity.
- They were coming up with a new idea.
